

Things to Know Final Exam
Chapter 13
PSY250 - Abnormal Psychology

- Define Substance (chapter 13)
- What is dependence
- What is addiction
- What is abuse
- What is withdrawal
- What is potentiation
- Define narcotics
- Define a stimulant
- Define a depressant
- Define a hallucinogen
- What is dementia
- Define delirium tremens
- What are the characteristics of Korsakoff's syndrome
- What are the characteristics of Wernicke's disease
- Long term effects of cirrhosis of the liver
- Which neurotransmitters are affected by alcohol
- What is the expectancy model
- What is the abstinence violation effect
- What effect does naltrexone have on alcohol abusers
- What effect does disulfiram on alcohol abusers
- What is relapse prevention therapy
- What is Alcoholics Anonymous how does it work
- Describe the effect of an amphetamine
- What is crack (is it addictive)
- What is cocaine (is it addictive)
- Effect/use of caffeine
- Effect/use of marijuana

Things to Know Final Exam
Chapter 15
PSY250 - Abnormal Psychology

Identify the American Psychological Association
What is informed consent
What is parens patriae
What is mandated reporting
What is confidentiality
What is privileged communication
What is duty to warn
Identify expert witness
Identify guardian ad litem
What does commitment mean (Chapter 15)
What is meant by right to a humane environment
What is meant by right to refuse treatment
Be able to describe the M'Naghten Rule
Be able to describe the ALI guidelines
Be able to describe the Durham Rule
Be able to describe the Insanity Defense Reform Act
What is forensic psychology
What is the insanity defense
What is the irresistible impulse test
Which disorders ARE NOT included in the Insanity Defense Reform Act of 1984
How does racial disparity relate to the insanity plea
How is not competent to stand trial determined
What does the court ruling judged as not guilty by reason of insanity mean
What does the court ruling judged as guilty but insane mean